

The horror movie

At quarter past seven on Saturday evening, Sarah arrives at Amy's house. She can stay overnight. Amy's brother Andy is with a friend. Mr and Mrs Cutter want to go to the cinema. The two girls are in the living room and watch TV. Mrs Cutter comes in.

Mrs Cutter: Dad and I go to the cinema now. The movie starts at eight o'clock. There are some cold drinks and some crisps on the kitchen table for you.

Amy: Thanks, Mum.

Mrs Cutter: Please switch off the TV at ten o'clock and go to sleep. Dad and I plan to be back at quarter to eleven.

Amy: Okay. Bye, Mum. Have fun.

Amy and Sarah watch a TV show until twenty to ten. Amy turns to some other TV channels. On one channel there's a horror movie: The killer spider.

Amy: Look, Sarah, it's a horror movie. It's from quarter to ten to half past eleven. We can watch it until my mum and dad come home.

Sarah: Okay. It's my first horror movie.

Amy and Sarah watch the movie. It's about a horrible killer spider. Amy and Sarah are very frightened. And they forget the time. At ten past eleven Mr and Mrs Cutter come home. Mrs Cutter finds the girls in the living room. They watch the spider kill a dog. Mrs Cutter switches off the TV.

Mrs Cutter: That's enough, girls. Why are you not in bed? I'm angry.

Sarah: Sorry, Mrs Cutter.

Amy and Sarah go to bed. They have a terrible night. They both dream of killer spiders.
